showers.

Peter Oosting has taken the contract for the mason work on the house of G.
A. Kanter.

J. C. Holmes is becoming acquainted with the laundry route and will hereafter be coachman on Pessink's wagon.

A. C. Keppel is erecting a beautiful residence adjoining his father's on the corner of Seventh street and College avenue.

Work on the new Semelink Family Hall is rapidly progressing and when completed will be another ornament to Holland's institutions.

The President's House on the college campus is receiving a thorough cleaning prior to its occupancy by President
G. J. Kollen and family.

Prof. C. M. McLean has purchased the property on the north-east corner of Fourteenth street and College Ave., formerly occupied by the late Mrs. L.
Veele.

The building boom is still going on and not a vacant house is to be found in the city. Masons and carpenters alike find steady employment. Many beautiful structures are still contemplated.

Labor Day will be celebrated at Grand Rapids on the first Monday in September. The committee expect to have a larger celebration than ever and a parade of 10,000 people is not improbable.

Cement walks are becoming more and more popular with the city's steady growth. The one just completed by A.
Steketeer adjoining and leading to his residence, adds greatly to the beauty of his premises.

Mrs. A. Wikstrom of Hamilton, Canada, rendered a very pleasing solo at Hope Church last Sunday morning, and had it been on any other occasion would have merited loud applause. Rev. B.
Smits of Ypsilanti delivered the morning sermon.

Several odd characters visited our city this week, making it a practice of begging for money. Some of them promptly complied with Marshal Van Ry's instructions and left town in preference to taking thirty days at the county jail.

The yield of wheat this season in most cases far surpasses expectations.
John Kleinhessel of Fillmore township threshed 1911 bushels last week from 50 acres of ground. The quality is good and the overweight will bring it to at least 40 bushels per acre.

Frank Brenneke fell from a scaffolding, thirty feet high, while employed on the new residence of John J. Cappon on west Eleventh street last Saturday

moned and it was found that the unfortunate man was quite badly injured.

The consistory of the Market street

nated the following gentlemen: Rev. J.
Groen of Zealand, Rev. J. B. Hoekstra of Muskegon, Rev. Haan of Grand Rapids and Rev. J. Robert of Roseland, Ill. A meeting of the congregation will be held next Thursday evening for the purpose of making a selection.

The sidewalks in some parts of the city are still in a very dilapidated condition and should receive immediate attention to avoid accidents or serious injury. Many a pedestrian is seen coming in contact with a raised spike or running chances of tripping over a loose plank, often causing a remark to pass over the lips of the victims, which is not worthy of repetition. One suit against the city for defective sidewalks may involve more expense than constant repairing for some time to come.

Tuesday evening the matrimonial bonds of Simon Koppers and Miss Reka Holkeboer were solemnized by Rev. K.
Van Goor at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Holkeboer, on west Tenth street. A large number responded to the invitations sent out, and many were the presents brought with them as a testimonial of their esteem for the groom and bride. An entertaining program was rendered, consisting of songs, speeches, etc. A sumptuous luncheon was served and the whole affair was a pleasant one. The groom is employed at one of our factories and with his bonny bride will occupy their new home on Eighteenth street.

The interior of the First State Bank has been greatly improved. The walls have been papered and other changes made. The work was done by Jacob Hook.

Allegan has another oil well. While driving for water oil was struck at 175 feet. It will be put down deeper and if a good supply is not found the well will be abandoned.

The shipments of peaches from Saug-ateuck and Douglas during July exceeded that of any other season. The average daily shipments last week were about 16,000 baskets.

Prof. G. E. Boer of the Grand Rapids theological seminary will preach in Bank will undergo some great improvements. Its walls will be frescoed and other changes made, thus keeping pace with the business of that thriving institution.

Albert Kamferbeek, typist at "De Hoop" office, had the misfortune of having his thumb of his right hand crushed between two boats one day last week.
His place at the office is temporarily filled by Simon Roof.

A farmer living near Olive owned a dog which had no idea of the value of greenbacks and so it chewed up and swallowed a nice green five dollar bill.
The unkind farmer killed the pup and had the five dollar bill redeemed at Grand Haven Monday.

August and September are fly months and you should be merciful to your horse by buying a fly net. There will also be considerable dust and a good duster will be appreciated. There's a good chance to buy these right. Read the ad of Horning & Turk.

Notice the change of time of steamer
Music. The boat now leaves Holland at 1 o'clock afternoon instead of 1:30.
The morning boat leaves at 10 o'clock.
The other trips are the same. See the new card. On Saturday night boat will remain at the Park till 10 o'clock.

At a meeting of the Ottawa County Building & Loan association Wednesday evening, George Ballard resigned as director and Jacob G. Van Putten was elected to fill the vacancy. The seventh annual statement appears in this issue, which shows that the institution stands on a solid basis and is second to none.

John Vandersluis and A. Visscher returned from their trip through the south-west Monday. They visited Arkansas, Indian Territory, Texas, New Mexico and Mexico and covered in all about 6500 miles. They enjoyed the trip greatly and though some very nice country was passed through they say that Michigan is ahead of it.

The Sunday question will be considered by the W. C. T. U. at three o'clock Friday, Aug. 9th, in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. The subjects for discussion will be: "The Fourth Commandment," "The Children's Sabbath," "The Children in the Pew" and "The Mother in the Sunday School." All ladies, especially mothers, are urged to attend this meeting and take part in the discussion.

The trampschooner Indian Bill which occasionally comes in here is well known along the shores of Lake Michigan, but everybody does not know the history of her name. When Captain Beary, the present owner, got control of the trampish craft, he proposed to name her in honor of Chas. H. Hackley of Muskegon. Mr. Hackley heard of it and generously offered Bean $100 if he would name his boat anything else.
The captain took the hundred and named his noble craft after an Indian who once hung around Muskegon.

GREATEST VILLAIN.
HOLMES HOLDS THE RECORD AS A PRODIGY IN CRIME.
The Quinlans Now Believed To Be Participants in the Murder of Little Pearl Conner, in the Subcellar at the Holmes "Castle" on Sixty-third Street, Chief Badenoch has decided to hold Joseph C. Owens and Patrick Quinlan, the two janitors of the building, for further investigation. The chief of police came to the conclusion to hold the men after an examination which was conducted in his office, and which lasted nearly five hours. From their answers to questions Chief Badenoch believes both men have guilty knowledge of the criminal operations of the man Holmes, and the finding of the bones now leaves no doubt that in addition to his known swindling operations Holmes is also guilty of murder in Chicago.
Found Another Quicklime Bed.
The workmen at the "Castle" continuing their search in another portion of the basement, found a second bed of quicklime. In this, just before their labors ended for the day, they discovered one of the metacarpel bones of a human body. They expect today to uncover other bodies buried in this charnel house of Englewood. The body found early in the day is supposed to be of Pearl Conner, daughter of Julia L. Conner, the former wife of C. L. Conner, once of Muscatine, Ia. Both mother and child have been missing since the summer of 1892. The woman was betrayed by Holmes, her husband secured a divorce, and she lived with Holmes, and some time in July or August, 1892, she and the child disappeared.

Holmes Says the Police Are "Off."
PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—H. H. Holmes was visited in his cell by his counsel, William A. Shoemaker. For two hours or more Holmes spoke freely of the bones and other fragments of human anatomy found in his "Castle" in Chicago. After the interview Shoemaker told an Associated Press reporter the substance of his client's statements. He said the bones were not those of any of the persons he has been accused of killing. He had been engaged in many insurance swindles, he said, and one of these the insurance companies "got onto." The police were "away off."

Explains About the Bodies.
His plan was to procure bodies from graveyards which were to be passed off as the bodies of the insured persons. One of these schemes required the bodies of a man, a woman, and a boy. He got them and had them embalmed, put them in trunks, and stored them in a warehouse. Before he could use them the warehouseman notified him that the trunks must be taken away or he would sell them. Holmes took them away and buried them in separate places. Said he: "Where they are the police must find out."
CHICAGO, July 25.—More proof has been found that Mrs. Julia L. Conner is dead and that she was made away with by H. H. Holmes. As late as November, 1892, Holmes, as shown by letters which have been found, was writing her parents as to her whereabouts and stating that she had gone to St. Louis. But on June 5, 1892, he wrote to her brother-in-law, Ira Yantis, at Waukesha, Wis., giving him a fictitious address as to her whereabouts. In digging at the "castle" the shoulder blade of an adult human being has been found, and a socket bone, supposed to be that of a child.

Two well dressed women have called on the chief of police and told him that a 16-year-old girl, daughter of wealthy and respectable parents, became acquainted with Holmes during the fall of 1893 and afterwards disappeared. This makes the seventh woman, as follows: Kitty Kelley, a stenographer who worked for Holmes; Minnie and Annie Williams, Alice Pitzel, Julia Conner and daughter and the girl just heard of. Conner, the divorced husband of Julia Conner, is here.
CHICAGO, July 27.—Mrs. Patrick Quinlan has lost her defiant spirit in the police inquisition. Two days of "sweat-box" experience proved more than she could bear with equanimity, and she told the police things which before had not been acknowledged. It resulted in making the police more than ever suspicious of her husband and the part he took in Holmes' mysterious business. Chief of Police Badenoch last night said: "The evidence secured from Mrs. Quinlan is highly important. She confessed to abetting Holmes in insurance swindles, and that is a step in the right direction. Patrick Quinlan up to this hour firmly protests that he was mere a hiring and did not know of Holmes' affairs at all."

"Mrs. Quinlan's evidence was that after Mrs. Conner disappeared it became necessary for Holmes to produce her to collect some insurance. Mrs. Quinlan consented to act in her place. She went to the insurance office and swore she was Mrs. Conner and signed that name. I think she was wanted in the collection of fire insurance that was secured by fraud. This opens the way to other deals, which it is necessary to know to fasten the guilt of many of the supposed murders." Mrs. Quinlan is locked up in a cell at the Harrison street station.
According to the statements of Jonathan L. Belknap it was Christmas night four years and six months ago that Mrs. Julia L. Conner was killed. He believes she was asphyxiated in her room while she slept. Her room was a small one adjoining the dark bath room in the "Castle." When all was still in the house Holmes switched on the gas. When the deed was accomplished Holmes stealthily admitted himself through the secret door of the bathroom. He lifted the inanimate form of Mrs. Conner from the bed and carried it to the bath room.
Then placing the body in the bathtub he proceeded to cut it to pieces and fed them to a hot fire in the stove. When all was done he took the ashes and parts that had not been entirely burned and buried them in a mass of quicklime in the cellar. Colonel Belknap is the uncle of the father of the Wilmette wife of Holmes. He says he and his wife spent Christmas with Holmes, and he helped Holmes to carry the now famous stove through a secret trapdoor into the bathroom adjoining Mrs. Conner's room. That night, he claims, Mrs. Conner disappeared.
According to the reports up to date there are ten persons on Holmes' death list now, six of whom are women, two girls, one man and a boy, as follows: B. F. Pitzel, Howard Pitzel (boy), Ida and Alice Pitzel (girls), Minnie and Annie Williams, Emily Cigrande, Mrs. Conner and her daughter Gertrude.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Yesterday's developments in the Holmes investigation closed the net's till tighter around Pat Quinlan, and added more proof to that already obtained that he was an accomplice and fully cognizant of most if not all his deeds. The police gave out the name of Edward Chappell as a man who not only had articulated skeletons for Holmes, but also did much of the work of constructing the mysterious tanks for acid and lime in the basement of the "Castle." The further the police get into the matter the more striking the fact seems that all the elaborate plans were part of a skillfully concocted scheme for murder. It is thought that the proof now in hand is such that the Quinlans can be arraigned for murder. More developments are coming to the front every few hours.
Inspector Fitzpatrick was put into possession of facts which weave a closer web of proof around Holmes, and add another victim to the already long list. This information was furnished by Attorney George B. Chamberlain, general manager of the Lafayette Mercantile Agency. This murder is shown to have been prior to or during 1891. B. F. Pitzel, who later fell a victim, was a participant in the murder of this man, and Chamberlain says he was equally guilty with Holmes. The crime was committed in Chicago either in 1891 or early in 1892. Again the victim was traced to the Holmes building in Englewood.
The police do not think this body has been found. The skeletons that were articulated were furnished a year and two years later. It is the belief that the body was dissected and cremated, or buried deep in quicklime in the basement. The name of this victim is kept from the public to allow the police to work up further evidence. It is believed that this was the first victim of Holmes. The police have found a woman's footprint in a "blind" vault in the "Castle" and conclude from this that a woman was killed there. Another alleged victim of Holmes is a Mrs. Lee, who disappeared during the World's fair.
Still another alleged victim is Emily Van Tassel, who is another missing girl. She was about 16 years old. At Toronto it is said that the evidence that Holmes murdered Alice and Nellie Pitzel is conclusive.
On the other hand a local newspaper is in receipt of an anonymous letter which says Minnie Williams, Mrs. Conner, an unknown man and a little boy are living on Wabash avenue, somewhere between Forty-first and Forty-second streets, in this city. The writer says he is a friend of Holmes and he knew Minnie Williams and Mrs. Conner well. He claims that he met them last week. He also says Holmes will be able to produce Annie Williams at the proper time.

Another local paper says the physicians have examined the bones found in the "Castle" basement and pronounce them "soup bones." Some fair about a foot long was found matted together with what appears to be blood, but it may be mud. Another friend of Holmes' named Mischoff has written to Philadelphia saying he has just returned from Europe and is sure Holmes wasn't in Toronto at the time of the alleged murder of the Pitzel children.
A telegram from Anderson, Ind., the home of Emeline Cigrande, says that in an interview her father, referring to a letter from Holmes to him stating that his daughter had gone to Michigan and been married to a man named Phelps, that the fact that they were to have gone to Michigan to be married and no point given by them is conclusive that Holmes made sure of erasing every clue. Even though she was married it would be impossible to find her marriage record.
From the descriptions she gave in her letters, and to her sister when the latter was in Chicago on a ten-days visit, he is quite certain that Phelps was Pitzel. He never spoke of aman by the name of Pitzel either. Another thing that adds greatly to his discomfiture and makes him believe that his daughter has been dealt foully with is the fact that although Miss Phoebe Cigrande was in Chicago visiting her sister ten days, less than a month before Phelps was to marry her, he never showed up.
A close inspection of letters shows that one signed Emeline and supposed to be from her three weeks after her marriage, is not her writing on the typewriter. It was done by some one that was by no means an expert and there are traces everywhere that indicate that it was not the work of a proficient typewriter.
A look of her hair has been found. It was taken from her head in 1892 and is a foot long, brown and very fine. It corresponds with some of the hair found in the cellar.
CHICAGO, July 30.—Chappell, the machinist who says that he articulated skeletons of three supposed victims of H. H. Holmes, told the police that Holmes had two vats in the cellar of the "castle." One, he said was in the southeast corner and the other in the southwest corner of the rear cellar. One of the vats, according to Chappell's statement, was used as a vessel in which the flesh was eaten from the bones by the use of acids; the other for the purpose of bleaching the bones.
Twelve laborers worked all day digging out the two corners designated by Chappell, and were about to give up the search as unsuccessful when one of the men at work on the southeast corner struck his spade against something which gave forth a metallic sound. The metal object proved to be a huge tank in the shape of a boiler. Work for the night was stopped before the tank was fully uncovered, but apparently it is eight feet long and three feet in diameter.

The Way the Rowe Brothers Expect to Keep Their Iowa Boedle.
CITY OF MEXICO, July 27.—It is discovered that one of the Rowe brothers, who are wanted for embezzlement in Iowa, rented a box in the safe deposit vault of the Banco Internacional. The employees of the vault saw him visit his box frequently and take or deposit money. When the brothers were arrested the bank received an order not to allow this box to be opened on any account until definite instructions were given by the government. The brother who hired the box is Richard Rowe, who is not naturalized. He claims that the money is his own, and that his brother Chester, who is charged with being a scoundrel from the state of Iowa, has nothing to do with it.

A problem for our mathematicians:—How many flies will the seven hundred barrels of rosin shipped by the Holland and Chicago Line to Thum's Fly Paper Works in Grand Rapids, catch after being spread on paper for "Tanglefoot traps"?

According to the state census Ottawa county contains 139,372 chickens, 2,288 turkeys, 359 geese and 847 ducks. Eggs were sold last year to the value of $9,325. Total amount of hay harvested in the county was 14,740 tons. In the county there are 11 silos with a capacity of 760 tons.

The house and barn of Mrs. G. Ten Have at New Groningen on the road to Zeeland burned yesterday afternoon. The fire started in the barn, but how, is still a mystery. The fire was vigorously fought, but the property could not be saved, although all the furniture and doors and windows were taken from the house. The loss will be about $1000, not insured.

A very pleasant recital was given Wednesday evening at Jenison Park hotel by Miss Eva Belle Johnson, soprano, Miss Lena Belle Bridgman, reader, and Prof. J. B. Nykerk, baritone, and Miss Amy M. Yates, accompanist. The resorters from Jenison, some from Macatawa and some from this city attended and all were very highly pleased with the affair. The selections were all fine and worthy of a much larger audience.

In the Grand Rapids Herald last Monday an article appeared concerning a certain John S. Dykstra of that city and in connection the name of J. A. Brouwer is brought up and reflecting upon the latter's honesty. It is a gross misrepresentation and Mr. Brouwer explains the matter in Wednesday's Herald. The latter explains how Dykstra by the life he led had to be taken to a hospital and ruined his business and that Brouwer did all he could to save some of Macatawa and some from this city attended and all were very highly pleased with the affair. The selections were all fine and worthy of a much larger audience.

Moonlight and Fireworks. In addition to the many other attractions at Macatawa Park and Ottawa Beach on Saturday evening, there will be a fine display of fireworks.

Our New Machine Works.

The Buss Machine Company of Holland made their first shipment of machinery of their own make this week to Rockford, Illinois, the great furniture manufacturing center of the country west of Lake Michigan.

This is noteworthy as the beginning of the work of one of the new industries of our city, which will grow to a place in the front rank in good time.

The new machinery shipped by them cannot fail to suit, as it is first-class in material and construction. They are prepared to make anything wanted in the line of wood working machinery, having new tools of the best construction, and experienced workmen, who know how to use them.

TRAP SHOOTERS.

Holland and Zeeland Teams Compete for a Medal—The Latter Won.

Some weeks ago the Resort Steamboat Co. offered a silver medal and $10 cash for a trapshooting contest between Holland and Zeeland to take place at Macatawa Park. The date was fixed at Thursday this week and a team of six men from each club were selected. Yesterday morning quite a number from Zeeland and from this city took the early boat to witness the contest. The morning was perfect, clear, pleasant and quiet and with the sun in the east the unruffled surface of old Lake Michigan formed a background for the targets which none of the shooters could desire improved upon. The contest was as follows:

Event 1, for medal, 25 singles. Zeeland—A. Kamps 15, H. Karsten 19, F. Hietje 21, A. Smits 22, P. Smits 23, H. Van Eyck 19—122.

Holland—C. J. De Roo 18, D. Blom 7, G. Bender 19, W. Thomas 12, P. Dulyea 15, C. Harmon 12—83.

Zeeland's majority 39.

Event 2, 20 singles, purse of $10.—W. Thomas 10, H. Karsten 15, D. Blom 9, C. Harmon 10, A. Eding 12, P. Dulyea 8, A. Kamps 14, H. Van Eyck 13, P. Smits 10, J. Kamps 17, J. Skinner 13, F. Johnson 4, S. Arleth 6, C. J. De Roo 13, G. Bender 10, Dr. O. Baert 9, A. G. Baumgartel 15, F. Hietje 16, E. Vandenberg 10, J. Krans 12, A. Smits 15, John Smith 13, A. Tanner 11.

First, $4—J. Kamps.

Second, $3, divided—P. Smits, F. Hietje.

Third, $2, divided—A. G. Baumgartel, A. Smits, H. Karsten.

Fourth, $1—A. Kamps.

The contest passed off very pleasantly and our visitors were well satisfied. The Zeeland club is in good practice and do some excellent work. An average of over twenty from a possible twenty-five is good. Our local club is not in good practice and it will need some steady work to get in shape for bringing that medal home. The medal is a very beautiful one of silver and is valued at $10. The Resort Steamboat Co. certainly deserve credit for their liberality in offering these valuable prizes. No better place can be selected for shooting contests than the beach on Lake Michigan, especially in the forenoon. There will be future contests and the Zeeland boys will have to look sharp if they want to retain that medal.

An Interesting Letter to the Veterans.

John Kramer of the 25th Mich. has received the following which explains itself:

"KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 21, '05. MY DEAR SIR:—I am, as you thought, the son of Wm. Rube, adjutant of the 6th Tenn. Inf. which was commanded by Col. Cooper and afterwards by Col. Maynard. The Col. Cooper you refer to is the eldest son of Gen. Cooper, and is county clerk of this county and one of its best citizens. Gen. Cooper is now a resident of Kansas and has signified his intention of being here at the Encampment, the success of which is now assured. Gov. McKinley and other distinguished men will be here and, I am told, the number of visitors will not be less than 20,000.

I have heard so much of the 25th Mich. that I feel a most lively interest in all pertaining to it. The 6th and 3rd Tenn. will see to it that any who may be here will be lovingly looked after. My father bids me to remember him most kindly to you and through you to all of his and your comrades. Regarding one of your questions I have to say that the "bloody chasm" is long filled in this section and ex-Federals and ex-Confederates are best of friends, united in business, in social and public life. The associations of ex-Confederates are enthusiastically co-operating to make the Encampment a great success.

To set the liver in action, purify and enrich the blood, and to strengthen and vitalize the whole system, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Having a peculiar tonic effect upon the lining membrane of the stomach and bowels, it makes a lasting cure of all stomach, liver and bowel disorders. By increasing the blood supply, as well as enriching it, all the organs of the body are strengthened, and the nerves are fed on pure, rich blood.

Neuralgia is the "cry of the starved nerves for food"; nervous debility and exhaustion, sleeplessness and nervous prostration are in most instances the direct result of a starved condition of the blood. The true way to cure these ailments permanently is to take the "Golden Medical Discovery," which was discovered and prescribed by an eminent physician, Dr. R. V. Pierce, at present chief consulting physician and specialist to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. If you want a medical opinion on your case, write him. It will cost you nothing.

A Book of 136 pages on "Diseases of the Digestive Organs," will be mailed to any address on receipt of postage, six cents. It contains names, addresses and reproduced photographs of a vast number of people who have been cured of dyspepsia, "liver complaint," chronic diarrhea, and kindred ailments by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

"LIVER COMPLAINT," Climax, Kalamazoo Co., Mich.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir:—A few of my symptoms were heartburn and fullness after eating; sometimes pain in my bowels and bad taste in my mouth; sometimes I was feverish, with hot flushes over skin. After taking your "Golden Medical Discovery" I was relieved of all these symptoms and I feel perfectly well. Yours truly,

NOORDELOOS.

Miss Gertrude Rosbach left for Grand Rapids Sunday morning to visit her sister Kate, the young lady who was run down by a reckless wheelman on Cherry street Friday evening. She returned Tuesday and reported her as out of danger but very weak from loss of blood and the terrible injuries she sustained. She has been removed to Butterworth Hospital and is receiving the best of care and treatment. This incident should teach bicycle-owners a much needed lesson and legislators might well turn their attention to regulating the use of these popular conveyances. Otherwise a useful invention, the bicycle threatens to become a prolific source of danger to life and limb unless provided with proper safeguards.

Wednesday morning Roelof Glas and Ogoe Hoving were brought before Justice Schilleman on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by J. Van der Ploeg. They pleaded guilty to the charge and paid a nominal fine and costs. The affair seems to be the upshot of an unsatisfactory horse deal. The warrants were served by Officer John Verhey.

Arend Raak and wife were in Holland Wednesday attending the nuptials of their oldest daughter Clara. The groom is Dick Slaght of Holland and they will make that city their future home. We extend congratulations.

Dr. Philip Krohn's lecture during the Assembly will be on "Incarnations." Dr. Krohn is one of those rare orators, who can move audiences at will. The G. A. R. men of Holland who heard his famous lecture on "Some Generals I have known," will never forget him.

Arens. Mrs. Hunter was president of the Indiana Music Teachers' Association, the only woman thus honored.

Prof. Michael Schlieven of the Metropolitan School of Music, of Indianapolis is again visiting the park. He will be remembered as the musician who charmed by his violin playing last year. Last Monday he delighted the men of the life saving station by playing for them. Prof. Schlieven has a very rare violin of magnificent tone—an "Amati" made in A. D. 1703.

The Philharmonic Quartette of Chicago, under the influence of R. H. Watson, is planning to visit the park, probably the week after the Assembly and give one of their fine concerts. We hope this plan will not fall through. This quartette has received high praise wherever it has given a concert. The members have been placed at the top of Chicago quartettes by the college boys, when visits have been made to college towns to sing at the commencement exercises.

Three new cottages are being planned to be erected probably within the coming few weeks. This makes a total of twenty-three new cottages since last summer, beside the new and fine hotel, and the many improvements brought about by the enterprising Park Co. Mrs. Dr. Sweetland of Edwardsburg, Ind., is building near the Auditorium. A. K. Getman of Grandville, Mich., is laying the foundation for his cottage near Dr. E. A. Adams on Grand Ave., Elmer Crockett of South Bend, Ind., is making plans for a nice cottage on his lot by the Inglenook cottage. Capt. John Muir of Grand Rapids is finishing his large cottage near the summit of Point Lookout. It is quite an ornament to the grounds.

Improvements.

People who have been to the Macatawa Bay resorts for a few years are very agreeably surprised at the rapid and substantial growth of the places, particularly at Macatawa. The new spacious dock, the new large hotel, the extension of the water system, the enterprize that runs the water mains even to tenters; the electric light plant; the new cottages, the enlargement and improvement of the older ones; all these are matters of comment to the people who have been here before and who have come this year.

But the improvement in means of transportation, particularly from Chicago demands special notice. It is not many years since the little "independent" boats would or would not stop at the Park as they liked. This is all changed.

Now the Holland and Chicago Transportation Co. has two of the staunchest boats on the lake. Large roomy, clean, well manned, and well officered. This is one of the finely equipped lines of boats.

The through travel to towns in Mich., and to the resorts north of Grand Rapids is of very great importance. The amount of freight carried is increasingly great.

Of course the resorters appreciate most and best the ease, the safety, the certainty of pleasant trips on first class boats. The utter absence of the sale of liquor on the boats adds to their safety. The meal service to any who may need it, is good. The day trips to the timid ones as well as to any who wish to breathe the ozone from the lake is very fine. The very reasonable freight rates make it possible for cottagers to carry a better class of furniture over, even for one seasons use, than before. The personal supervision of the loading and unloading of household goods shows a care for the interests of the patrons of the line that is very fine. Very convenient is the starting place at Chicago, at the State st. bridge.

Those are all factors in these improvements in access to the park resort that we believe are fully appreciated by the resorters.

Of course many do not know what were the conditions out of which all this came. From the time when put off at Ottawa Beach, people had to get to the park as best they might, to the present ample accommodations is not long and many remember it, but the change is marked. As suggestive of the spirit of the Holland and Chicago Transportation Co., in a conversation with Mr. Owen recently—its president—he said, and it was not for print, that "he had respect for the peoples nerves, and at times when he knew, and every boat man knew, it was perfectly safe to start out, still with ample time the custom of the Co. was to await the very easiest conditions."

That spirit seems to pervade all.

We have travelled quite a good many times on these boats and from the genial captains to the jolly cooks we, have found them fine fellows. Sometimes they have enough to provoke any one but as a rule they keep cool and calm.

Now and then a bum or tough will get aboard. But such people soon learn that these boats are for respectable people. To be able to put women and children on board and feel perfectly safe, to feel that gentlemen and lady-like stewards will care for all real needs is a boon the patrons of the line. Yet such is done and may be.

The early arrivals of the boats is overcome for those who want more sleep by just taking them to Holland, and returning them on the Music.

For all this we with hundreds of others are very glad.

The line deserves all this of us, and merits the largest confidence.

How Dr. Miles' Nerve Restores
One of Kentucky's Business Men to Health.

NO DISEASE has ever presented so many peculiarities as LaGrippe. No disease leaves its victims so debilitated, useless, sleepless, nervous, as LaGrippe. Mr. D. W. Hilton, state agent of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Kentucky, says: "In 1889 and '90 I had two severe attacks of LaGrippe, the last one attacking my nervous system with such severity that my life was despaired of. I had not slept for more than two months except by the use of narcotics that stupified me, but gave me no rest. I was only conscious of intense mental weakness, agonizing bodily pain and the fact that I was hourly growing weaker. When in this condition, I commenced using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve. In two days I began to improve and in one month's time I was cured, much to the surprise of all who knew of my condition. I have been in excellent health since and have recommended your remedies to many of my friends." Louisville, Jan. 22, 1895. D. W. HILTON.

THE ALL SEEING EYE.

VISION, SAYS THE REV. DR. TALMAGE, IS THE CREATOR'S MASTERPIECE.

But the Eye of God is More Indescribably Wonderful, Searching and Overwhelming—An Extremely Eloquent and Instructive Discourse—Sight Restored.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is still absent on his summer preaching tour in the west and southwest, has prepared for today a sermon on "The All Seeing," the text selected being Psalm xiv, 9, "He that formed the eye, shall he not see?"

The imperial organ of the human system is the eye. All up and down the Bible God honors it, extols it, illustrates it or arraigns it. Five hundred and thirty-four times it is mentioned in the Bible. Omnipresence—"the eyes of the Lord are in every place." Divine care—"as the apple of the eye." The clouds—"the eyelids of the morning." Irreverence—"the eye that mocketh at its father." Pride—"Oh, how lofty are their eyes!" Inattention—"the fool's eye in the ends of a earth." Divine inspection—"wheels full of eyes." Suddenness—"in the twinkling of an eye at the last trump." Olivet sermon—"the light of the body is the eye." This morning's text—"He that formed the eye, shall he not see?" The surgeons, the doctors, the anatomists and the physiologists understand much of the glories of the two great lights of the human face, but the vast multitudes go on from cradle to grave without any appreciation of the two great masterpieces of the Lord God Almighty. If God had lacked anything of infinite wisdom, he would have failed in creating the human eye. We wander through the earth trying to see wonderful sights, but the most wonderful sight that we ever see is not so wonderful as the instruments through which we see it.

It has been a strange thing to me for 40 years that some scientist with enough eloquence and magnetism did not go through the country with illustrated lectures on canvas 30 feet square to startle and thrill and overwhelm Christendom with the marvels of the human eye. We want the eye taken from all its technicalities, and some one who shall lay aside all talk about the pterygomaxillary fissures, and the sclerotic, and the chiasma of the optic nerve, and in common parlance which you and I and everybody can understand present the subject. We have learned men who have been telling us what our origin is and what we were. Oh, if some one should come forth from the dissecting table and from the classroom of the university and take the platform, and asking the help of the Creator, demonstrate the wonders of what we are!

If I refer to the physiological facts suggested by the former part of my text it is only to bring out in a plainer way the theological lessons at the latter part of my text, "He that formed the eye, shall he not see?" I suppose my text referred to the human eye, since it excels all others in structure and in adaptation. The eyes of fish and reptiles and moles and bats are very simple things, because they have not much to do. There are insects with 100 eyes, but the 100 eyes have less faculty than the human eyes. The black beetle swimming the summer pond has two eyes under water and two eyes above the water, but the four insectile are not equal to the two human. Man, placed at the head of all living creatures, must have supreme equipment, while the blind fish in the Mammoth cave of Kentucky have only an undeveloped organ of sight, an apology for the eye, which, if through some crevice of the mountain they should get into the sunlight, might be developed into positive eyesight. In the first chapter of Genesis we find that God, without any consultation, created the light, created the trees, created the fish, created the fowl, but when he was about to make man he called a convention of divinity, as though to imply that all the powers of Godhead were to be enlisted in the achievement. "Let us make man." Put a whole ton of emphasis on that word "us." "Let us make man." And if God called a convention of divinity to create man I think the two great questions in that conference were how to create a soul and how to make an appropriate window for that emperor to look out of.

Structure of the Eye.

See how God honored the eye before he created it. He cried, until chaos was irradiated with the utterance, "Let there be light!" In other words, before he introduced man into this temple of the world he illuminated it, prepared it for the eyesight. And so, after the last human eye has been destroyed in the final demolition of the world, stars are to fall, and the sun is to cease its shining, and the moon is to turn into blood. In other words, after the human eyes are no more to be profited by their shining, the chandeliers of heaven are to be turned out. God, to educate and to bless and to help the human eye, set in the mantle of heaven two lamps—a gold lamp and a silver lamp—the one for the day and the other for the night. To show how God honors the eye, look at the two halls built for the residence of the eyes, seven bones making the wall for each eye, the seven bones curiously wrought together. Kingly palace of ivory is considered rich, but the halls for the residence of the human eye are richer by so much as human bone is more sacred than elephantine tusk. See how God honored the eyes when he made a roof for them, so that the sweat of toil should not smart them and the rain dashing against the forehead should not drip into them. The eyebrows not bending over the eye, but reaching to the right and to the left, so that the rain and the sweat should be compelled to drop upon the cheek, instead of falling into this divinely protected human eyesight. See how God honored the eye in the fact presented by anatomists and physiologists that there are 800 contrivances in every eye. For window shutters, the eyelids opening and closing 33,000 times a day. The eyelashes so constructed that they have their selection as to what shall be admitted, saying to the dust, "Stay out," and saying to the light, "Come in." For inside curtain the iris, or pupil of the eye, according as the light is greater or less, contracting or dilating.

The eye of the owl is blind in the daytime, the eyes of some creatures are blind at night, but the human eye so marvelously constructed can see both by day and by night. Many of the other creatures of God can move the eye only from side to side, but the human eye so marvelously constructed has one muscle to lift the eye, and another muscle to lower the eye, and another muscle to roll it to the right, and another muscle to roll it to the left, and another muscle passing through a pulley to turn it round and round—an elaborate gearing of six muscles as perfect as God could make them. There also is the retina, gathering the rays of light and passing the visual impression along the optic nerve, about the thickness of the lampwick—passing the visual impression to the sensorium and on into the soul. What a delicate lens, what an exquisite screen, what soft cushions, what wonderful chemistry of the human eye! The eye, washed by a slow stream of moisture whether we sleep or wake, rolling imperceptibly over the pebble of the eye and emptying into a bone of the nostril. A contrivance so wonderful that it can see the sun, 95,000,000 miles away, and the point of a pin. Telescope and microscope in the same contrivance. The astronomer swings and moves this way and that and adjusts and readjusts the telescope until he gets it to the right focus. The microscopist moves this way and that and adjusts and readjusts the magnifying glass until it is prepared to do its work, but the human eye, without a touch, beholds the star and the smallest insect. The traveler among the Alps, with one glance taking in Mont Blanc and the face of his watch to see whether he has time to climb it.

The Tear Glands.

Oh, this wonderful camera obscura which you and I carry about with us, so today we can take in our friends, so from the top of Mount Washington we can take in New England, so at night we can sweep into our vision the constellations from horizon to horizon. So delicate, so semi-infinite, and yet the light coming 95,000,000 of miles at the rate of 200,000 miles a second is obliged to halt at the gate of the eye, waiting for admission until the portullis is lifted. Something hurled 95,000,000 of miles and striking an instrument which has not the agitation of even winking under the power of the stroke! There also is the merciful arrangement of the tear gland, by which the eye is washed, and from which rolls the tide which brings the relief that comes in tears when some bereavement or great loss strikes us. The tear not an augmentation of sorrow, but the breaking up of the arctic of frozen grief in the warm gulf stream of consolation. Incapacity to weep is madness or death. Thank God for the tear glands, and thank the crystal gates are so easily opened. Oh, the wonderful hydraulic apparatus of the human eye! Divinely constructed vision! Two lighthouses at the harbor of the immortal soul, under the shining of which the world sails in and drops anchor! What an anthem of praise to God is the human eye! The tongue is speechless and a clumsy instrument of expression as compared with it. Have you not seen it flash with indignation, or kindle with enthusiasm, or expand with devotion, or melt with sympathy, or stare with fright, or leer with villainy, or droop with sadness, or pale with envy, or fire with revenge, or twinkle with mirth, or beam with love? It is tragedy and comedy and pastoral and lyric in turn. Have you not seen its uplifted brow of surprise, or its frown of wrath, or its contraction of pain? If the eye say one thing and the lips say another thing, you believe the eye rather than the lips.

The eyes of Archibald Alexander and Charles G. Finney were the mightiest part of their sermon. George Whitefield enthralled great assemblages with his eyes, though they were crippled with strabismus. Many a military chieftain has with a look hurled a regiment to victory or to death. Martin Luther turned his great eye on an assassin who came to take his life, and the villain fled. Under the glance of the human eye the tiger, with five times a man's strength, snarls back into the African jungle. But those best appreciate the value of the eye who have lost it. The Emperor Adrian by accident put out the eye of his servant, and he said to his servant: "What shall I pay you in, money or in lands? Anything you ask me. I am so sorry I put your eye out." But the servant refused to put any financial estimate on the value of the eye, and when the emperor urged and urged again the matter he said, "Oh, emperor, I want nothing but my lost eye!" Alas for those for whom a thick and impenetrable veil is drawn across the face of the heavens and the face of one's own kindred. That was a pathetic scene when a blind man lighted a torch at night and was found passing along the highway, and some one said, "Why do you carry that torch, when you can't see?" "Ah," said he, "I can't see, but I carry this torch that others may see me and pity my helplessness, and not run me down." Samson, the giant, with his eyes put out by the Philistines, is more helpless than the smallest dwarf with vision undamaged. All the sympathies of Christ were stirred when he saw Bartimeus with darkened retina, and the only salve he ever made that we read of was a mixture of dust and saliva and a prayer, with which he cured the eyes of a man blind from his nativity. The value of the eye is shown as much by its catastrophe as by its healthful action. Ask the man who for 20 years has not seen the sun rise. Ask the man who for half a century has not seen the face of a friend. Ask in the hospital the victim of ophthalmia. Ask the man whose eyesight is polished in a powder blast. Ask the Bartimeus who never met a Christ or the man born blind who is to die blind. Ask him.

This morning, in my imperfect way, I have only hinted at the splendors, the glories, the wonders, the divine revelations, the apocalypses of the human eye, and I stagger back from the awful portals of the physiological miracle which must have taxed the ingenuity of a God, to cry out in your ears the words of my text, "He that formed the eye, shall he not see?" Shall Herschel not know as much as his telescope? Shall Fraunhofer not know as much as his spectroscope? Shall Swammerdam not know as much as his microscope? Shall Dr. Hooke not know as much as his micrometer? Shall the thing formed know more than its master? "He that formed the eye, shall he not see?"

Wonders of Vision.

The recoil of this question is tremendous. We stand at the center of a vast circumference of observation. No privacy. On us, eyes of cherubim, eyes of seraphim, eyes of archangel, eyes of God. We may not be able to see the inhabitants of other worlds, but perhaps they may be able to see us. We have not optical instruments enough to descry them; perhaps they have optical instruments strong enough to descry us. The mole cannot see the eagle mid sky, but the eagle mid sky can see the mole mid grass. We are able to see mountains and caverns of another world, but perhaps the inhabitants of other worlds can see the towers of our cities, the flash of our seas, the marching of our processions, the white robes of our weddings, the black scars of our obsequies.

It passes out from the guess into the positive when we are told in the Bible that the inhabitants of other worlds do come as convoy to this. Are they not all ministering spirits sent forth to minister to those who shall be heirs of salvation? But human inspection, and angelic inspection, and stellar inspection, and lunar inspection, and solar inspection are tame compared with the thought of divine inspection. "You converted me 20 years ago," said a black man to my father. "How so?" said my father. "Twenty years ago," said the other, "in the old schoolhouse prayer meeting at Bound Brook you said in your prayer, 'Thou, God, seest me,' and I had no peace under the eye of God until I became a Christian." Hear it. "The eyes of the Lord are in every place." "His eyelids try the children of men." "His eyes were as a flame of fire." "I will guide thee with mine eye." Oh, the eye of God, so full of pity, so full of power, so full of love, so full of indignation, so full of compassion, so full of mercy! How it peers through the darkness! How it outshines the day! How it glares upon the offender! How it beams on the penitent soul! Talk about the human eye as being indescribably wonderful! How much more wonderful the great, searching, overwhelming eye of God! All eternity past and all eternity to come on that retina.

A Searching Glare.

The eyes with which we look into each other's face today suggest it. It stands written twice on your face and twice on mine, unless through casualty one or both have been obliterated. "He that formed the eye, shall he not see?" Oh, the eye of God! It sees our sorrows to assuage them, sees our perplexities to disentangle them, sees our wants to sympathize with them. If we fight him back, the eye of an antagonist. If we ask his grace, the eye of an everlasting friend. You often find in a book or manuscript a star calling your attention to a footnote or explanation. That star the printer calls an asterisk. But all the stars of the night are asterisks calling your attention to God—an all observing God. Our every nerve a divine handwriting. Our every muscle a pulley divinely swung. Our every bone sculptured with divine suggestion. Our every eye a reflection of the divine eye. God above us, and God beneath us, and God before us, and God behind us, and God within us.

What a stupendous thing to live! What a stupendous thing to die! No such thing as hidden transgression. A dramatic advocate in olden times, at night in a courtroom, persuaded of the innocence of his client charged with murder and of the guilt of the witness who was trying to swear the poor man's life away—that advocate took up two bright lamps and thrust them close up to the face of the witness and cried, "May it please the court and gentlemen of the jury, behold the murderer!" and the man, practically under that awful glare, confessed that he was the criminal instead of the man arraigned at the bar. Oh, my friends, our most hidden sin is under a brighter light than that. It is under the burning eye of God. He is not a blind giant stumbling through the heavens. He is not a blind monarch feeling for the step of his chariot. Are you wronged? He sees it. Are you poor? He sees it. Have you domestic perturbation of which the world knows nothing? He sees it. "Oh," you say, "my affairs are so insignificant I can't realize that God sees me and sees my affairs." Can you see the point of a pin? Can you see the eye of a needle? Can you see a mote in the sunbeam? And has God given you that power of minute observation, and does he not possess it himself? "He that formed the eye, shall he not see?"

Restored to Sight.

But you say: "God is in one world and I am in another world. He seems so far off from me I don't really think he sees what is going on in my life." Can you see the sun 95,000,000 miles away, and do you not think God has as prolonged vision? But you say, "There are phases of my life and there are colors—shades of color—in my annoyances and my vexations that I don't think God can understand." Does not God gather up all the colors and all the shades of color in the rainbow? And do you suppose there is any phase or any shade in your life he has not gathered up in his own heart? Besides that I want to tell you it will soon all be over, this struggle. That eye of yours, so exquisitely fashioned and strong and hinged and roofed, will before long be closed in the last slumber. Loving hands will smooth down the silken fringes. So he giveth his beloved sleep. A legend of St. Frobert is that his mother was blind, and he was so sorely pitted for the misfortune that one day in sympathy he kissed her eyes, and by miracle she saw everything. But it is not a legend when I tell you that all the blind eyes of the Christian dead under the kiss of the resurrection morn shall gloriously open. Oh, what a day that will be for those who went groping through this world under perpetual obscuration, or were dependent on the hand of a friend, or with an uncertain staff felt their way, and for the aged of dim sight about whom it may be said that "they which look out of the windows are darkened" when eternal daybreak comes in! What a beautiful epitaph that was for a tombstone in a European cemetery: "Here reposes in God, Katrina, a saint, 85 years of age and blind. The light was restored to her May 10, 1840."

AT JACKSON'S HOLE.

Latest News Indicates That the Settlers Are All Right.

MARKET LAKE, Ida., July 29.—The latest and most authentic reports indicate that the settlers in Jackson's Hole are unharmed, and that no massacre has taken place. Federal troops have gone into the Jackson's Hole country, but the probability is that when they reach the scene of the reported massacre they will find, instead of the smoking ruins of cabins and the mutilated corpses of settlers and their families, the same old camp of Jackson's Hole and a lot of healthy, husky settlers, who will perhaps be greatly surprised to learn of their reported death. In fact, there is now almost positive evidence that there has been no massacre.

The following tales have been afloat in the last couple of days: That fifty or more people were slaughtered by Indians three night ago; that sixteen families in the Jackson's Hole country were massacred; that the Lemhi Indians, 200 strong—that is, the young bucks—have already crossed the track at Beaver Canyon to join the Bannocks; that thirty-five Fort Hall Bannocks, with war paint and feathers flying, marched through the town of Idaho Falls, a few miles to the south of Market Lake, Thursday afternoon on their way to the Teton country; that all the passes into the "hostile" country are guarded by Indians and that that is the reason why no whites come out to give reliable news.

The story of the fifty whites killed in the Jackson's Hole country comes to Market Lake third or fourth handed without names or any other information than is borne in the bare statement given. The same is true of the "sixteen families" story. All told, there are not 500 Indians on the Lemhi reservation when all are at home, so it is impossible for the number of bucks quoted to have left the agency for the excited country. The thirty-five Fort Hall Bannocks, who in war array marched through Idaho Falls, were five Bannocks traveling on passes given by Agent Teter.

Indian Agent Teter in his report to the Indian commission of his investigations of the Jackson Hole trouble says: "From reliable information I have no hesitation in saying that for every elk killed unlawfully by the Indians two are killed unlawfully by the settlers. The majority of the citizens of Jackson's Hole are men who have left their country for their country's good. The Indians killed by these settlers were practically massacred. The men who committed the crime should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. A certain element among the settlers in the Jackson Hole country seems determined to drive the Indians from that country at whatever cost, not recognizing any law themselves but that which serves their interest."

NEW YORK TAILORS ON STRIKE.

Will Result in the Idleness of About 17,000 of Both Sexes.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The Hebrew clothing makers of this city, yesterday, for the first time, observed the American Sunday. They were on a strike. Trouble has been brewing between the tailors and the contractors for some time and it has culminated in a general strike of the workers. It is claimed by the strikers that 10,000 workers have responded to the call of the United Brotherhood of tailors and that not only this city, but Brooklyn, Newark and Brownsville, are affected. The number out in this city is estimated at 9,000.

Meyer Schoenfeld, the official organizer of the United Garment Workers of America, in a statement declares that the strike is purely a defensive one. The present agreement, he says, which gives them sixty hours' work in six days and a fair scale of wages, will expire Sept. 15, and it has been learned that the contractors will refuse to renew the agreement. The total number of men involved is 12,000, and a strike of those makes 5,000 girls and women also idle.

The Making of Macatawa Park.

(CONCLUDED.)

The advent of civilization has destroyed the magnificent forests, and in common with the rest of the lower peninsula of Michigan, we are approaching the conditions of those countries where mankind, especially those claiming the highest civilizations have long held sway,—forests destroyed, climate becoming more arid, and the face of the country losing its fertility and approaching the conditions of desert waste.

The lake could not be civilized out of existence, but the flow of the river has been diminished more than half by the drying up of its branches, caused by draining the low lands and destroying the forests, which held the rainfall to flow gradually into the streams, instead of rushing off at once from the denuded soil.

And the timber locusts were kept out of Macatawa Park, where yet stand some of the old forest-giants of the days before the coming of the white settlers.

For many years the Macatawa Peninsula had been a favorite resort for picnic parties from Holland, and a few campers from abroad came to spend their summer vacations there. Hon. A. D. Griswold, then residing at Grand Rapids, had selected the beautiful spot near the Lake Michigan shore, known as Griswold camp, and with his family tented there several summers; and Rev. J. Morgan Smith of Grand Rapids also spent two seasons there as an invited guest.

One of the owners of the lands had refused all the many offers made him for the privilege of stripping the timber from the hills, until September, 1880, when the pressure of the hard times and a very tempting offer in cash for sixty acres of the land now occupied by Macatawa Park, induced him to sell it. He was so reluctant to give up his long cherished idea of saving this remnant of the old forest for better use, that he insisted upon taking back a contract from the purchaser, requiring him to deed it back on payment to him of the purchase price within one year, leaving him as his profit the value of what timber he had taken off meanwhile.

July 8th, 1881, Mr. and Mrs. Heber Walsh chartered Captain Brouwer's little steamer "Twilight" and invited a party of friends to enjoy with them a ride on the lake and a picnic in the grove at Macatawa.

It was a beautiful summer day, and the purchaser of the sixty acres before mentioned was greedily gathering his profits; all day long, the grand old hemlocks of a hundred years growth, were crashing down beneath the axes of his bark peelers.

A formal meeting was organized to consider the subject and as its results have proved to be important and far reaching, we will give the report of the proceedings made by the secretary at the time.

"July 8th, 1881.

Heber Walsh, Esq., having invited a party of his friends to ride to the mouth of Black Lake on the steamer Twilight, at his expense, and enjoy a picnic dinner in the grove, it was suggested during the after dinner talk, that an effort ought to be made to secure this tract of beautiful forest for a public park and pleasure resort, and a meeting was called to order to take the necessary action for that purpose.

Prof. Charles Scott was duly elected chairman, and Henry D. Post secretary. There were present Heber Walsh, Esq., and Mrs. Walsh, Prof. Charles Scott, and Mrs. Scott, Prof. L. F. Bangs, and Mrs. Alice F. Bangs, F. R. Brouwer, Prof. C. Doesburg, and Mrs. Doesburg, Charles A. Dutton, and Mrs. Dutton, Rev. Daniel Van Pelt, and Mrs. Van Pelt, Dr. Thomas E. Annis, and Mrs. Annis, Charles S. Dutton, Henry D. Post, and Mrs. Anna C. Post.

On motion of C. A. Dutton, seconded by H. Walsh—Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the chair to take measures to secure a title to sufficient land south of the harbor to include the desirable sites for pleasure grounds.—Carried, all voting yea. The chairman appointed as committee, H. D. Post, H. Walsh and C. A. Dutton.

On motion of Dr. T. E. Annis, seconded by Prof. C. Doesburg—Resolved, That the committee be directed to call a meeting and report as soon as possible.—Carried, all voting yea.

On motion, duly seconded and carried, adjourned."

The committee appointed to look up titles, commenced work at once. It was found that the year's time of the contract for the repurchase of the sixty acres on which the bark peelers were then at work had not yet expired, and it was arranged to have notice served at once on the purchaser, who very reluctantly took back the money and gave up the land, when he found that he could not avoid the performance of his contract.

The committee learned that an agent of the owners of the largest tract which it was desired to purchase, resided at South Haven. A letter to him, asking the price, was tardily replied to, with the statement that he was coming to Holland in the course of the season and would then call and see about it. One of the committee knew that Bela Hubbard, Esq., of Detroit, was very likely able to tell all about the ownership of these lands, and a letter was at once written to him, stating the purpose for which it was desired to purchase the lands, and asking his assistance in securing them. Mr. Hubbard answered at once, giving the name of the gentleman holding the title, his address in New York city, and the assurance that he was prompt and reliable. A letter to this gentleman was as promptly answered and a reasonable price asked for the land. Reply was sent by telegram, to send abstract of title and deed of the land to the Old National Bank at Grand Rapids, and the money would be sent to exchange for the papers, and complete the purchase. In a few days time the deed was received and recorded, and the first important step in the making of Macatawa Park was completed.

August 6th, 1881, a meeting was called and a subscription was drawn up preliminary to completing the organization of the Macatawa Park association, and the following named gentlemen subscribed, thus becoming the original charter members:—H. Walsh, Charles Scott, H. D. Post, J. C. Post,

H. Boone, Jacob Kuite, Daniel Bertsch, O. Breyman, Charles A. Dutton.

Dec. 29, 1881, the organization was completed by the adoption of articles of association and the election of officers for the first year as follows:—President, Charles Scott; vice president, Charles A. Dutton; secretary, Henry D. Post; treasurer, Daniel Bertsch; directors, Heber Walsh, Otto Breyman, Hermanus Boone, Jacob Kuite, Frederick O. Nye.

During the ensuing fourteen years the association have steadily gone forward with the work of "the making of Macatawa Park," until it has grown to its present position—one of the most pleasant and popular summer resorts in Michigan. HENRY D. POST.

A WONDERFUL ESCAPE.

Related by a Keeper of the Michigan State Prison at Jackson.

(From the Jackson Citizen.)

Mr. A. E. Wing resides at 612 N. Jackson Street, Jackson, Mich. He is a keeper in the Michigan State Prison, a man of sterling integrity, and whose word is beyond dispute. He tells the following story of a wonderful escape, and the incidents connected with the dangerous position in which he was placed. He says, some months ago my attention was attracted by a swelling of my groin, which began to increase in size to such an extent that I was alarmed. It spread down my legs to my feet, and I was bloated from my waist down, so badly that I could not pull my pants, over my legs, and I had to open my shoes fully two inches before I could get them on. Even my face became puffed up; and my whole system seemed affected. I could hardly drag myself upstairs to unlock my men. I consulted a physician, one of the best in the city. He said the swelling was caused by an irritation of the kidneys, and I commenced treatment with him. But I seemed to be getting worse. I was strongly urged by a friend to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and I finally consented. After the first week I commenced to see a change, and felt much better. This was encouraging, and I continued their use. I took five boxes in all, with the happy result that I was completely cured. I have never heard of any medicine which had such a pronounced and radical effect, and yet not affect the system generally and leave it in such a good condition. I feel better now than I ever did. After the effect was once established the swelling gradually disappeared until it was entirely gone. I regard Doan's Kidney Pills as a most wonderful agent in the curing of any form of kidney disorder.

For sale by all dealers—price, 50 cents per box. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

When troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea, colic or cholera morbus, give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.
